

Regional planning of pear industry in Taiwan lowland

Jau-chang Shih

Abstract

The status of pear producing regions and management in Taiwan isn't in line with the future trend, the following structural adjustments should be planned to create a new management style, to develop a large-scale industry: 1. Low altitude areas planned for producing bud-woods of low chills with high quality pear varieties. 2. Lowland new emerging areas planned for new type early matured high-grafted pear producing. 3. Supporting a new management style for future Taiwan's pear Industry: enterprises-R&D-production symbiont.

Key words: lowland, early matured, high-grafted pear, industrial planning, structural adjustment.